DUAL test system to detect counterfeit currency before it enters the cash drawer. PLEASE READ DIRECTIONS CAREFULLY on How To Use the Detector Pen and the UV Light

How to Use the Counterfeit Detector Dual Test System

Test money with Detector Pen

- 1) Uncap pen & make a small mark
- 2) Yellow or gold mark indicates authentic currency
- 3) Black indicates the money is suspect

For use on currency printed 1960 and after.

Test money with UV light

($5 through $100 bills printed after 1996 have a security thread which glows under UV light)

- 1) Press side button to activate UV light
- 2) Shine light on top of currency. Use the illustrations below to help locate the security thread.
- 3) Match color and location of security thread for each denomination as shown below to authenticate.

IMPORTANT: The security thread on some bills, especially older $100 bills, can be extremely faint. Find the thread and shine the light through the back of the bill if necessary to authenticate.

AVOID CONTACT with EYES, SKIN and CLOTHING. CAUTION: DO NOT LOOK DIRECTLY or STARE at UV LIGHT. PROLONGED EXPOSURE CAN CAUSE EYE DAMAGE. KEEP AWAY FROM CHILDREN. AVOID SKIN & EYE CONTACT WITH COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR PEN FLUID. IMPORTANT: Remember to turn off the UV light after each use to conserve battery life. The powerful light will test thousands of bills. Button cell batteries are included and easy to replace. To replace batteries: unscrew the green light housing. Place 3 LR44 button cell batteries, inserted with the negative side down into the tube. The smooth flat positive side of the top battery will be visible. Replace the light housing and double check by activating the light.

This product is highly effective when used correctly. It is not guaranteed to detect 100% of counterfeit notes. Visit www.moneyfactory.com for other security features on U.S. currency and more information.

"The Counterfeit Detector Pen & UV Light Combo is an excellent front-line defense and deterrent to prevent loss from counterfeit money. Highly effective and highly recommended." Former Secret Service Agent and Counterfeiting Expert.
